No. 42 Vol. 2 Thursday, February 14, 1952

THE RAYMOND LION

Twenty-six hungry Lions gathered at the Legion Hall on Monday at six thirty—some of them at six-thirty. The President conducted the meeting. The President kept the boys in a state of worry about their dimes and created a lot of fun at nearly everybody's expense. Joe McLean took over part of the program rather than lose his shirt, a hint of his first grandchild. Jack Vanderhilt got in the act some where—he couldn't explain what he had to do with the ceremony so he had to help Joe anyway. Helde Karaki told us the duties and prospects of the Community Betterment Committee.

The canvass for the Institute for the Blind is still not completed. Oh! Lions! Oh! Lions! why don't you get up off your big fat—get the job of canvassing closed?

The mid winter Cabinet Meetings of District 37 (all four divisions) is being held in Lethbridge Saturday, 16th. The Lethbridge Club is holding its twenty-first Charter Night Celebration at the Marquis at 8:45 on the 16th.

The Frank Crawshaw One Man Show was held in the Stake House at 8:15 on Wednesday. Eighty people were culture conscious enough to come. The program lasted for two hours and everybody was well pleased with a wide variety of character readings. The crowd did not pay the expenses—as usual the Lions Club is stuck with the deficit. We are not complaining and will continue to bring in high class production when we have the privilege of obtaining qualified artists. Maybe sometime enough Raymond people will be interested in this class of production to make it carry its own financial burden. We can dream, can't we?

There are two anniversaries to celebrate this month. St. Valentine's Day and Lincoln's Birthday.

Valentine's Day

This date is set aside and dedicated to love. Love is universal and transcends national boundaries, religious, racial and political groups. Isn't it a shame that when there is so much hate in the world, there is so little love? Perhaps all of us need to re-evaluate our own lives to see if we really are as tolerant as we should be, to ascertain whether or not we realize the significance of and the necessity for mutual respect and understanding of the other fellow and nation. We can't bring love to the world until we ourselves are the outstanding exponents of love in our own lives, in our family relationships and in our business activities.

We haven't changed our ardent feelings toward our wives and family but many of us haven't had the opportunity to express our affection lately as we did during our courting heyday. Write that sweetheart of yours a little note now so that she will have tangible evidence that the old man hasn't lost his courting technique. Make February 14 a real occasion this year—let's get all dolled up and really make the day resound with gaiety and mirth.

Only love conquers our problems, and more important, only love can furnish that magic panacea which will put our world on a more rational basis.

The Zobell couples held their first reunion of the year on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Zobell. All sixteen members were present except Garth Galbraith of Pincher Creek.

Dr. and Mrs. Orson Bingham were special guests. The feature of the evening was the colored slides Dr. Bingham showed of the Zobells, taken last winter at the parental home during Grandpa Zobell's annual birthday party. These and numerous other slides were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all those present.

W. I. News

The Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Ruby Holland with the President, Mrs. Parley Meldrum presiding.

Salute to the flag was led by Mrs. Paris and the Creed was led by Mrs. I. Kitchen. Roll Call was answered by exchanging Valentines.

Notice was received that the District Conference will be held in the Civic Centre in Lethbridge on April 3 and 4.

After the correspondence was read and business attended to, Mrs. Hall read an interesting letter from a niece in Japan. Jan Heninger gave an interesting talk on the customs of the people in New Zealand and her varied experiences there. She also showed pictures and a map of the country.

A quilt was made by the W. I. and given to a family recently burnt out.

Each lady who had had a birthday brought an article which was auctioned off by Mrs. Hall. The proceeds go to the W. I. Fund.

Twenty ladies were present and partook of the delicious lunch served by the hostesses, Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. Gardener and Mrs. Holland.

Mrs. R. Alfred held the lucky ticket for the tea prize.

The Friday Nite Club met at the home of Mrs. Lettie Litchfield with fourteen members present. President Helen Babb, in charge, announced a new schedule of meetings for the year which was read by Secretary Edith Woolley for approval by the members. It being approved and accepted, the time was turned over to Minnie Litchfield who very capably reviewed 'High Bright Buggy Wheel' which was enjoyed by all present.

The hostess, with Helen Babb as co-hostess served a delicious lunch to bring to a close a very pleasant evening.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Gibb entertained at a family get together in the form of a dinner party. The remainder of the evening was spent playing Rook by the Jack Mortons of Warner, Farrel Nelsons and Boyd Hirsches of Stirling, Cleese Schweitzers of Lethbridge and the Doris Stones, Norman Hirsches, Maurice Coopers and Mrs. Clara Nelson. The prizes went to Boyd Hirsche for High Score and Mrs. Nelson consolation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McBride were visitors in Cardston on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. May.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mc'drum entertained at a dinner party honoring Mrs. Parley Meldrum on her birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Hicken, Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gibb, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Dahl and the Meldrums sat down to a delicious repast, after which Rook was played. The prize winners this time being Hickens and Turners.

Culturally Speaking

Culturally, Raymond (and many other small towns in this country) need a good swift kick in the pants.

So spoke Mr. Frank Crawshaw, renowned British stage and screen star who thrilled the disappointingly small crowd that gathered at the Stake House recently to witness his marvellous display of facial and voice control. It was as an entertaining two hours' as can be found anywhere and will be long-remembered by those privileged to see it.

His varied performance introduced the audience to all sorts of characters from a march-weary soldier in Kipling's "Toots" to the slightly silly British Tommy who was "Dreaming Of You My Darling". The works of Shakespeare, Dickens, Kipling and Robert W. Service were all given a thrilling performance.

Just before Mr. Crawshaw concluded his program he took time out to speak quite frankly about the decided lack of cultural development of the Canadian people, generally speaking. He drew attention to the fact that our world of today is occupied mainly by films, mostly crass commercial projects; radio, more of the same; and a good number of books and magazines that contribute nothing to a person's cultural development. As in all things, he said, there are exceptions but today the vast majority of young Canadians have never had the privilege of seeing a really good live talent show. Home talent programs are alright as far as they go but they do not come anywhere near the polish of a professional-theatrical group. This does not even imply that home-dramatics are not a wonderful thing for they are. They are a major source of opportunity for young and old to gain experience in appearing before the public but people who study a part during their spare time for six months and then appear in maybe two or three performances cannot hope to compare with people whose whole life is the theatre. The same can be said of directors and all others essential in this line.

The above is not to be taken that we are saying that the dramatics and musicals done by local talent are not good and are not appreciated. We have had the opportunity of seeing some of these and can say from personal observation that as far as we were concerned the actors, actresses, directors and all others have done a creditable job. We are not setting ourselves up as drama critics—we are only saying what we know for ourselves.

To get back to Mr. Crawshaw and other performers: The Raymond Lions Club deserve a heap of credit for taking the chances of bringing in such artists as Mr. Crawshaw, the University Choir, and the singers from the Theatre Under the Stars. Each of these attractions should have been a big thing for the people of Raymond but in most cases the lack of local enthusiasm was apparent to such a degree that even if the Lions didn't lose money on all of them the paid attendance sometimes left them with only cents where they should have had dollars.

To the faithful few, there is no need to read further, but to those whose theatrical and musical culture has heretofore been taken in very small doses and at very infrequent intervals we suggest to you that when the next opportunity shows itself for you to take in a show such as those mentioned above that you grab it—you are sure to enjoy it.

Not many people like opera the first time they see and hear it but it can, and does, form a wonderful part of many people's lives.

A Sunday evening Study Class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowden recently at which time Mrs. Adrian Garner presented the topic.

A very tasty lunch was served by the man of the house at the conclusion of the evening.

The Locker Way - The Saving Way

HOME FREEZER SERVICE

We extend all of our services to owners of home freezers at the same rate as our locker patrons. Home units are storage units not designed for quick freezing. Get the greatest possible satisfaction from your freezer by having all your food properly processed — it really pays.

CURING

We offer a full pork processing service including cutting, wrapping, freezing, curing, lard rendering and sausage making. You supply your own pork or we will supply it at 1¢ over stockyard price plus slaughtering.

PROCESSING

The greatest care is exercised in the handling of your meat under clean, sanitary conditions. First it is aged in our cooler, then cut up with scrupulous care to fit your own particular individual likes. Do you like your steaks a little thicker or your roasts boned? It is specially wrapped to insure protection against dehydration, etc., cuts marked, dated, quick frozen at 20 degrees below zero and placed in your locker. Because we earnestly strive to render service which is so necessary to obtain frozen products equal in every way to fresh products, we strongly discourage anyone doing their own processing.

WHOLESALE

In order to make locker service economical to patrons unable to raise their own meat we supply meat to them at a special price. During the high price of meat we are supplying any grade of beef at 1¢ over packing house price, pork at 1¢ over stockyard price plus slaughtering. Actually this is cheaper than the farmer can slaughter his own beef.

ATTENTION MR. FARMER

Now is the time to have that curing done for spring and summer work — Don't delay until you are busy. Enquire about our slaughtering service today.

FAIRBANKS FROZEN FOODS

We were talking the other day to Bill Fairbanks about things in general and about the "worms" in pork in particular. He hunted up a magazine and told us to read for ourselves. This we did and thought you might be interested in the story. This is taken from the trade magazine, "Locker Management".

Few meat foods are more popular than those that comprise meat products that obtained from the hog carcass — mouth-watering ham, bacon, pork sausage, spare ribs and roast loin of pork. Good food, full of nourishment — strength building — delicious to the taste, yet I am sorry to say a very common food that under certain conditions, or might I say, because of certain conditions, can be a serious health menace to those who eat pork products.

Trichinosis is a disease that is largely peculiar to hog. Its transmission and incident infection to human beings is very clearly emphasized in a report by the Committee on Public Health Relations, made by the New York Academy of Medicine published by the Federal Security Agency, Public Health Service and Division of Public Health Methods, all of whom are Government agencies.

Coming right down to "brass tacks" on this exhaustive report, the most upsetting fact was developed by what is known as necroscopic examinations of 5,313 individuals in 37 states and the District of Columbia. This study was made over a period of years and revealed the astounding fact that 16.1 per cent of the total number of patients had trichinosis infection. That means that more than 16 out of every hundred patients carefully examined showed "positive". Other tests involving 3,000 hospital patients over a widespread area, showed a slightly higher per cent "positive", namely 16.7 per cent.

There is another angle to this transmissible disease from hogs and pork products that is quite alarming to all of us: a large part of these patients — 9 had their cases MIS diagnosed by their medical advisor. Some of these cases were diagnosed as the LaGrippe — 4 nephritis, rheumatic fever, gastritis, food poisoning, acute sinusitis, etc.

The passing of this information to the locker operators of the country is not with any intention of reducing the consumption of pork products, for certainly they represent much of your business, but before you get through reading this article you will learn that the locker plant is in a particularly favorable position to PREVENT any infection to any of its patrons by the transmission of trichinosis in any pork they process for the patron.

Those present were the Lyman Jacobs, Kay Redds, Godfrey Holmes, Fritz Dahls, Roy Woolleys, Mito Van-ces, J. L. Gibbs, Dr. Walkers, J. O. Hickens and John Allen.

In explanation of this disease of swine the Merck Manual of Diagnosis and Therapy, one of the best-known manuals of medicine published in this country, in its eighth edition says that this disease is principally contracted by eating pork that is infected and is caused by taking into the stomach the larvae from such infected pork. It is a tiny worm. It imbeds itself to the bowel mucous and the extent of its presence is confirmed by the statement that about 17 per cent of the adult population of this country is said to be infected.

Frequently the cases are so mild and so difficult to diagnose that the presence of the infection is only determined by an autopsy and the indications found in small clarifications in the muscles.

It is further stated that the mortality rate directly traceable to trichinosis is quoted at 5 per cent. There is much more in this fine reference book on the subject, both in diagnosis and therapy, but the facts as stated give you a pretty good idea of what trichinosis really is.

The infection and presence of this disease in hogs has at many times affected our foreign trade, principally in European countries — France in particular only accepts fresh pork products for import that HAVE BEEN FROZEN.

About 70 per cent of all the pork products consumed in this country are certified by the Federal Meat Inspection division of the Agriculture Department. This certificate reads: "U.S. Inspected and Passed".

This means that such products have been inspected in the regular routine of inspection of all meat so inspected, but it does not necessarily mean that it is free of trichinae. So this is no insurance even under BAI inspection that there are no trichinae present.

One of the principle causes of this disease in hogs is the feeding of uncooked garbage or other food that contain infected meat scraps or in fact many kinds of swill and garbage. It appears that the heating of all pork cuts to 137 degrees F. will destroy trichinae. However, this means that if a pork roast is cooked at customary temperatures the 137 degrees F. MUST BE THROUGHOUT the entire roast. This likewise applies to all pork cuts. These facts must call to mind the efforts of the writer in a great many articles urging that the inedible offal be COOKED, partly because of the monetary recovery to be derived from such cooking and rendering but also because when this cooked product from slaughter is cooked under steam pressure the meat scraps and soup or "stick" makes a perfect ration for

The Jr. M. Men and Jr. Gleaners of the Fourth Ward enjoyed a Fire-side at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rol Stone recently. Renon Garner was the guest speaker, recounting missionary experiences.

Mrs. Alice Court is visiting in Castlegar, B. C. with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greep and Mr. and Mrs. Ren Mitchell.

hogs when mixed with grain. And please bear in mind that it is a safe ration and one that cannot give the hog trichinosis.

There is another thing that I have learned from the research that was necessary to pass this information on to you in a simple manner, and that is that freezing fresh pork products in the manner and for the time most locker plants subject this product — another SURE way to kill any trichinae that may be present.

This is something that should be passed on to your customers — it is a fact that their quick-frozen pork is absolute insurance that they run no risk of contracting trichinosis, but it should always be emphasized that all fresh pork products should be cooked to an inside temperature of 137 degrees F. This is just an added precaution to the already described advantage of quick freezing.

It is also recommended that subjecting fresh pork to curing as in hams and bacon destroys the trichinae and on top of it all the locker plant has, if it furnishes its patrons with smoked products at recommended temperatures in the smokehouse, the added advantage of a heat treatment that takes all the chance out of contamination by trichinae.

Through this interesting research on a disease that causes 5 per cent mortality of the total affected 17 per cent of all adults in this country, we are told that when fresh pork is frozen at zero degrees (and most locker plants freeze at a much lower temperature) and if the meat is then stored for 48 hours at zero degrees all trichinae present are destroyed.

So it appears that the locker operator really has something to present in its proper light to his patrons.

Convenience, economy, and service are of the utmost importance but you can add to that, insurance against this dread disease of trichinae. Fellows, you really have something here and certainly you should make use of it, not only for your own benefit but as a contribution of your locker plant for the safeguarding of the public health.

You have seen from the facts submitted in this article that trichinosis is a serious problem in public health, because of its appreciable mortality among the actually recognized cases and also because of such a widespread invasion of this disease which is not easily discovered in ordinary diagnosis and treatment.

There is a lot of truth in the old adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" and nothing can be truer than this ounce of prevention in the control of as tricky a disease as trichinosis.

The Raymond Music Club enjoyed a party with their husbands recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fairbanks. After a delicious turkey dinner, contributed to by all and enjoyed by all, various games were played by the thirty-two present. Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Gough won the Lucky Prize offered. A showing of films by Arch Terry was also found very interesting.

"And that the Government OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE, AND FOR THE PEOPLE shall not perish from this earth."

Those were the concluding words of the Gettysburg address by Abraham Lincoln.

Born of humble parents and poor surroundings "Abe" Lincoln, by determined effort came to be the greatest statesman our nation has ever known. He loved his country and Democracy.

It has been 143 years to this date that Lincoln came upon this earth, struggled through childhood, then manhood to become the President of this great country. He was determined that "OUR NATION SHALL NOT PERISH." Little did he realize what has confronted us in the past and that which may confront us in the future.

With the same determination that Lincoln had, our nation will come through in the future as it has in the past. Our assurance—careful thinking and alertness, that we may retain LIBERTY, INTELLIGENCE, OUR NATION'S SAFETY.

"Are you unmarried?" inquired the census taker.

"Oh no," she replied sweetly, "I've never been married."

"Come, come, my good man. You've been looking around here a long time without buying. What do you want?"

"I guess I want another Department Manager," replied the man. "I'm the new owner of this store."

A small town is a place where everybody knows whose check is good and whose husband isn't.

THE NEW RAYMOND RECORDER

I wish to express my appreciation and sincere gratitude to the anonymous donor (my 'good Samaritan') of the fifty dollar scholarship which I received; to the Raymond Lions Club for their splendid contributions toward the furthering of my education, and to all my teachers, without whose generous help I could never have made the grade.

I trust that your confidence in me does not go unrewarded. Thank you very much.

Chips From The Scout Log

This Week's Meeting—Feb 12

The boys were instructed in trail signs. A good scout can mark a trail that he or any other scout can follow in any kind of country. There was some time spent also on signalling (semaphore and morse). The boys can spell out small words quite accurately.

The troop paraded with uniforms and the colors of troop and country. All the scouts and scouters took the pledge of allegiance to their new monarch, the Queen. The Scout Promise was recited: On my honor, I promise to do my best to do my duty to God, and the Queen; to help other people at all times; to obey the Scout Law.

The District Commissioner, Roy A. Woolley, visited the troop this week.

Scouter Jim McMahn received his first training certificate by successfully completing an indoor training course at Lethbridge.

Patrol Competition

The Wolf Patrol (Max Holt P. L.) is still leading, but the margin is becoming very small. The Stags (Sam Longbottom P. L.) have pulled up into third place, making it, in order, Wolves, Foxes, Stags and Beavers.

Future Activities

Knots, lashings and splices will be demonstrated next week. All Scouts are to bring 15 feet of 1/4 inch rope.

Neckerchief slide competition—March 4th. Lets design an original neckerchief slide.

Troop Hike—Saturday February 16—South of Town. The troop will leave from the Public School at 8 a.m. Friday night the Sturdy Patrol Leaders will go out to spend the night and prepare camp for Saturday.

Swimming Class will be held for the troop the first week in March. Robert Gehmlich will be the instructor and lifesaver.

If any of the Scouts need help to get in uniform, the troop will get the uniforms and the boys can pay the troop over a period of time. Lets all get in uniform.

HE'S GOT a lot behind him . . . and a lot still ahead, now he becomes manager of his first branch.

Years of work and study and growing responsibility have prepared him. He saw a lot of Canada as he moved to different branches. He got to know the people in farming, suburban and industrial communities, and how they use the bank.

Now he takes over from the man who moves up . . . and the road to the top is open for both of them.
